3. METHODS

All methods and techniques are a form of energetic therapy and in no way replace regular healthcare or scientific methods. It is emphasized that methods are not aimed at making a medical diagnosis, nor are they a replacement for medical or psychotherapeutic diagnoses or treatments. Treatment methods serve the purpose of guiding clients to the rediscovery of their authentic, unchanging self-awareness and the self-healing powers that exist within everyone, with the intention of bringing body, soul and spirit back into harmony. For any kind of diagnosis and therapy, please contact a doctor or therapist only.

4. POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS

You can experience discomfort after an energetic healing as your body processes the energies that are being released and activated during a treatment. That processing may cause additional or enhanced symptoms for a few days. This discomfort is only temporary and most often a sign your energies are being aligned and your body, soul and spirit find harmony.

Monique Muijres makes every effort to the best of her knowledge and ability in the performance of her work. The ultimate result of this also depends on factors that Monique Muijres cannot influence, including the client's own responsibility for his well-being and health and his will to heal. Monique Muijres can therefore not give any guarantee with regard to the result of the work performed by her.
